

Six States Join Oil "Shutdown" Strike

Seek To Boost Crude Oil Price

Two-Thirds Of Nation's Oil Production Will Be Hit By "Strike"

SHUTDOWNS ARE ALREADY STARTING

(International News Service)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 17.—A stoppage in production of more than two-thirds of the nation's oil supply was only hours away today as six states joined in an unprecedented and concerted "shutdown strike" to boost falling crude oil prices.

Latest state to join the movement started by Texas producers was Arkansas. Last night O. C. Bailey, of the Arkansas Oil and Gas Commission, announced that the state's wells in controlled fields would be shutdown indefinitely today.

Just before Bailey's announcement, Louisiana had thrown in with the "shutouts." Gov. Earl K. Long ordered that all the state's wells except the stripper and pumper wells be shut down effective at 6 p. m. today.

Started In Texas
The "strike" began in Texas, the nation's largest oil producing state with 1,347,686 barrels a day, with an announced 15-day shutdown a few days ago. Oklahoma and New Mexico, after the Interstate Oil Compact commission met in Oklahoma City and decided to let each state handle the problem in its own way, decided on shutdowns Tuesday night. Then followed Kansas with similar action, after which Louisiana and Arkansas made their moves.

When the wells of these six states have been made idle, well over 2,000,000 barrels a day of "black gold" will be choked off. California, which produces 604,750 barrels daily, has not joined the "strike," nor has Michigan, Illinois, Pennsylvania or Colorado.

has not joined the "strike," nor has Michigan, Illinois, Pennsylvania or Colorado.

May Raise Gas Price

From the consumers' point of view, the biggest question was whether motorists would feel the pinch of increased retail gasoline and oil prices as a result of the shutdown. Until now there has been no sign of an upward trend in retail prices.

Many oil men blame the non-controlled Illinois fields for the present situation. Even as the "shutouts" strove to force a hike in crude oil prices, the Illinois wells were flowing without restriction. There were indications that Illinois producers even were stepping up production where possible. Last week this state's production reached a peak of an average daily output of 296,000 barrels, 16,500 barrels more than the preceding week.

Oil men in the "strike" states were agitating openly for a special session on the Illinois legislature to consider prorotation to help relieve conditions in the industry generally. Ernest O. Thompson, of Texas, chairman of the Interstate Compact commission, declared that unless Illinois adopts voluntary control of its oil output it may face federal control.

No Request To James
(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 17.—Indicating that he lacked authority to do so, Gov. Arthur H. James denied today that he had received requests for a shutdown of Pennsylvania's oil fields for 15 days in an effort to raise the price of crude oil.

At his press conference, the chief executive declared that Pennsylvania had no state regulation of the oil business as did Kansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana. Therefore, he pointed out, it was without his jurisdiction to allocate the amount each oil company could produce.

contacted contractors while he was chief highway engineer and asked them to give some of their business to the Kirk Agency.

Kirk, last of the three defendants to take the stand, at the same time testified that David L. Lawrence, Democratic state chairman and former secretary of the commonwealth, turned over to him in January, 1935, his stock in the Harrisburg Insurance Company, when he took over his state office, and had resigned as vice-president and member of the company.

ORDERED OUT OF TOWN
Mayor Charles E. McGrath, Wednesday, sentenced one Clarence Jenkins to leave the city and should he return he will automatically sentence himself to a several months stay in the Allegheny county workhouse. The young man, formerly of Butler county, it was said, has been frequently involved in trouble here and Tuesday was arrested for trouble in Shady Side.

have taught their children to fly and gather their own worms, and now they sit on telephone wires, or trees, chirping a little and bobbing their tails. Few do any singing but they seem to be doing a lot of thinking. Possibly they're wondering if the grafters in Louisiana have left anything for them in the rice fields to which they will soon be flying.

Recent experiments in the Westinghouse radio laboratories to ascertain whether heat generated by radio short waves can be used in cooking, seemed to be successful. A fourteen pound ham was cooked in twenty minutes. To cook a ham of that size by steam would require four or five hours. We hope the new process will be tried on some of the radio "hams" we hear on the air but probably they're too "raw" to roast.

Mother is now getting her jars ready for the tomato canning season, provided she is one of those mothers who believe that nothing is too good for her loved ones. You can buy plenty of tomatoes in tin cans but they don't seem to taste like the ones that mother puts up. There are plenty of tomatoes waiting for those jars. All that is needed is a little more sunshine. There has been plenty of rain and the vines are happy.

Mr. Taxpayer, what do you think of this. According to a news dispatch, the Tennessee Valley Authority proposes legislation to authorize it to contribute in excess of $1,225,000 annually to southern states to offset tax losses suffered through retirement of private utilities from the TVA area. This means that your money has not only been used to create cheap power in southern states, but you are asked to further contribute by helping to pay the taxes, which those states have lost, through government ownership.

NAZIS EXTEND DEMANDS UPON DANZIG RETURN

Official Polish personalities on the highest rank have indulged in the wildest demands, while the policy press has conducted a campaign claiming East Prussia and German territory even up to the Oder river. Turning to the enlarged issue now involving the corridor, the German authority went on:

"In view of the situation, and the dangers involved for our eastern provinces, Germany is bound to insist 'more solid ties' between the Fatherland and the severed province of East Prussia."

No Concrete Proposals

Questioned whether Germany still would be satisfied with extra-territorial roads and railways through the corridor, the spokesman said: "We cannot mention any concrete proposals regarding the corridor yet."

Next, he was asked about Poland's viewpoint that negotiations are impossible unless Germany first denounces her claim to Anschluss with Danzig.

"This shows," the authority stated, "that Poland does not want negotiations." "What did Herr Hitler mean by declaring in April that Danzig should return to Germany as a free state?" was the next question. He answered:

"Danzig must not have the 'freedom of a Nun,' but must be permitted to choose a husband according to her own wish, and in accordance with the principles of self-determination in line with Wilson's fourteen points."

Poland Opposed

Warsaw, Aug. 17.—Poland today was officially reported opposed to any negotiations with Germany for the expansion of Nazi rights in the Polish corridor separating East Prussia from the Reich.

(Background Note: An official spokesman in Berlin indicated today that the Reich planned to formulate specific demands for the revision of the status of the corridor.)

High Polish officials asserted that any revision in the legal or geographic status of Pomorze would open the door for Nazi hegemony over the Baltic states and would menace Polish territorial independence and integrity.

Meanwhile, in a surprise defense move, the Polish government prepared to confiscate all landed estates along 12,500 kilometers of Polish border "for reasons of military security."

British Demands

London, Aug. 17.—British government circles insisted today that both Poland and Soviet Russia must be included in any conference on the Danzig problem if the crisis now gripping Europe is to be settled by that means.

In the same breath, however, a Whitehall spokesman reiterated with emphasis that the British government has no knowledge of any conference of any kind contemplated anywhere to settle the dispute arising from Germany's demand for Anschluss of Danzig and the Reich.

Gerlin, Aug. 17.—The Polish frontier facing Bohemia and Slovakia has been closed, a German official news agency (DNB) dispatch from Maerisch-Ostrau stated today.

The report gave no reason for the closing of the border.

auto theft, fled from Joliet late yesterday. Working out of doors under surveillance of Guard William E. Frew, 47, they overpowered Frew and drove off in a work truck, taking the guard with them. Stopping the truck in Joliet, the desperados at gun point took the car of Robert Lindquist, Jr., and sped away after beating Frew unconscious with a pistol butt. The youth was not hurt.

Woman Tells Story
Proceeding east from Joliet, the men passed the Rices' car, then slowed down and forced them to stop. Describing the experience, Mrs. Rice said:

"Both men got out and came over to us. They told us they were desperate and one of them waved a gun at us. We obeyed their orders. The man called McGuire took the wheel and kept my husband beside him. The other man sat in back with me, holding a gun."

"We drove to Chicago and somewhere along the way McGuire got out and bought a bottle of whiskey. They drank it and began quarreling about where to go. Then they suddenly drove up to a filling station and robbed the attendant. We stayed helpless in the car. 'Somewhere in East 35th street McGuire got out. Emmerson, who stayed with us, couldn't drive, so he forced my husband to. We drove until we got to Belvidere. The convict said he wanted to go to his home in Rockford. My husband was getting very tired but the man threatened him to keep driving. Then the accident happened. That saved us.'

IT'S THANKSGIVING WHATEVER THE DATE

THANKSGIVING DAY a week ahead of the customary date,
as ordained by President Roosevelt, may prove a severe jolt to those who don't like their holidays suddenly shifted about, but it may prove, on the whole, a salutary move.

For retail business in this country, Thanksgiving Day marks
the start of the Christmas shopping season. When Thanksgiving comes late, as it would this year in the natural course of events, customer buying is correspondingly delayed.

An early season is a trade tonic. An early Thanksgiving should mean buyers flocking that much earlier to the stores. Advancing the holiday from November 30 to November 23 means a week additional shopping time before Christmas. It gives customers more leisure to inspect goods, more time to get what they want at the prices they want to pay. It gives merchants an added week of seasonal shopping; gives them more time to take care of their customers' wants, conveniently and without rushing.

Merchants believe the earlier holiday will improve business. That is the reason given for the President's move, and it is a satisfactory reason. If business is helped, we all are helped.

Thanksgiving, so far as tradition is concerned, was celebrated on a variety of dates in the years following the Pilgrims' first observance in 1621. It was not until after the Civil War, when Abraham Lincoln called upon the American people to offer
thanks to God for their well-being, that the last November Thursday was made a fixture. Naturally the actual date has varied from year to year.

It would have been better, unquestionably, had the decision to change this year's date been made earlier. "The sudden announcement causes a large number of complications.

The President's announcement brings to the fore the question of holiday revision in general, something that might very well be examined. Many of our holidays, just as Thanksgiving marks the usual beginning of Christmas shopping, have considerable effect upon business. It has been suggested that the summer holidays, for example, be observed always on Mondays, rather than on different days of the week. This would provide longer week-ends and prevent the mid-week disruption of business caused when the holidays occur between week-ends. It has been pointed out that if there is no reason to fix Thanksgiving on the last Thursday of November, there is equally no reason why the holiday should be on a Thursday at all, instead of a Monday.

To some persons anything that has been done a certain way for a certain time becomes a fixed tradition. Yet they have seen the date of the Presidential inauguration changed from the traditional March 4 to January 20 without observing any disastrous result. Right this minute millions of us are living under a standard of time that is untraditional and inaccurate,
just because we find it more convenient.

If it is more convenient or profitable to move Thanksgiving up a week, no one, surely, is worse off. The important thing to be remembered is that the true essence of the Thanksgiving Day celebration is, and always has been, the giving of thanks to Almighty God for His manifold blessings bestowed upon this Nation and the individuals it represents. If, wisely, we pay greater heed to the basic spirit of the observance it will not much matter which day is selected.

HANDING A TAX PROBLEM TO TENNESSEE

Completing the sale of Commonwealth & Southern electric power properties in Tennessee to the Tennessee Valley Authority and municipalities, Wendell L. Wilkie, president of the corporation, told the people of the State in newspaper advertisements that "we hand over our Tennessee electric properties and a $2,800,000 tax problem."

With the transfer of the Commonwealth & Southern properties to public agencies, Federal and local, these taxes stop. TVA, created at enormous cost to the taxpayers of the whole country, is virtually tax free.
Although Senator Norris introduced in Congress last month legislation providing for a system of payments by TVA to States in lieu of taxes,
the measure was not acted upon.

The Commonwealth & Southern sale, brought about by the company's inability to compete with Government-financed TVA, will make a considerable hole in Tennessee's tax receipts, perhaps necessitating increases in State and local taxes to pay for such essential services as schools, water, fire and health.

Applied on a national scale the effect of Government domination of electric power production, in augmenting the tax burdens borne by the people, is incalculable.

We know now that we have come to the hottest part of the summer.
The store windows down town are full of fur coats for women.

Every time a hen lays an egg somebody takes it away from her.
But she doesn't get discouraged, just keeps on laying more eggs. Maybe it's a habit.

Perhaps for the information of the office seeking the man, Mr.
Garner announces that during his front porch campaign he will be found
under the oaks behind the house.

Not long ago a college professor told a class of boys that when they get out of school they will have to work for a living. This old fashioned pedagogue ought to be retired.

The radical thinks the poor can't prosper if the rich do. The conservative knows we must all prosper together or not at all.

"Social unrest" is the fault of our schools. Those who might be contented plowhands are miserable if
taught to expect a soft desk job.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACH THAT "NO MEANS NO"
Repeatedly I have urged in this column that the baby should learn
the meaning of No. I even recommended deliberate use of spanking
for this purpose. I have also tried to show how very seldom physical pain is necessary and how it properly can be abandoned in the very early years.

Just as soon as the toddler will stay where he is put for an allotted period, without being held or tied
there, you can, and undoubtedly should, cease to spank him. A very effective substitute is for him to have to sit for a definite period as measured by the clock (and always
as so determined, and not "till I tell you to get down") in a comfortable
chair with a footrest.

Spank Should Be Effective
Nor is there any need that I can see why the child should ever be
spanked, or even hear the word No,
until he is able to move about and
face danger.

For a spank to be effective it
should hurt, should follow the act
to be forbidden on its first occurrence, and every time thereafter
without exception, and it should occur immediately. Unless these principles can pretty surely be applied to a particular situation
spanking better not be chosen. Accordingly such matters as thumb-
sucking, and automatically, nail-
biting and the like will be ruled out
of spanking acts.

Wrong Method Fails
A mother in one of my parent
classes once inquired about her two-year-old who had been spanked for opening the ice box. She said, "The child soon learned not to open it
when I was in the kitchen but will still open it while I am in another room or upstairs."

Of course, her error was obvious.
She would spank the child on finding what had happened. But often
he had had long enjoyment at the forbidden pleasure before apprehension; sometimes he had succeeded without being caught at all. The punishment was not immediate, nor without exception. He had not learned to avoid the ice box permanently, and automatically, regardless of the mother's presence. Punishment which does not prove effectually enough to deter in your absence, as well as in your presence,
is bad punishment.

Must Establish Habit
The mother was advised not to tempt the baby by leaving him exposed to the ice box when he could open it without immediate discomfort; but to be with him always
when he was near the ice box so that he would learn so well to avoid
it that by and by he would avoid it automatically, even if she were to be in Europe.

Accordingly, she would take the
child with her on leaving the kitchen until such time as the habit
of avoidance had been established
without any doubt. A month later
she reported complete success. After just one more spanking, though a score of them had failed before.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. Do you believe in paying children for helping about the home?
A. No; if the child is to be paid for such tasks, how is he to gain a feeling that he is a responsible member of the family group? Let each child, as soon as he is old enough, have a few jobs to be done
every day at a regular time, whose doing he cannot escape. As he volunteers to help at other things,
show great appreciation of his cooperation. However, if the child is striving to earn a special fund for a specific purpose, a few irregular
jobs might properly be paid for.

FISHING LUCK
As a fisherman I've learned
Luck is something to be earned.

Who the largest fish would catch
Must the prize with labor match.
Who'd excel his fellow men
Must have knowledge how and when;

Early rise to dig the bait;
Hour by hour with patience wait;

Cast and cast where luck is not;
Move with faith from spot to spot
And continue fishing on
After others home have gone.

Then — and there's no other way —
Luck may come to him some day.

KEEP 'EM AWAY

John McKay is said to be telling
this story on A. C., our well known Scottishman:

When A. C. lived in Scotland there lived in A. C.'s town a very ugly
man. He was so ugly that when a person looked at him, the person
lost his appetite.

Every time A. C. gave a party he invited the ugly man, so that the other guests would not care to eat.
Of course that was a long time ago, and A. C. doubtless has changed his ways since then.

Every fourth President of the

has died in office. According to the "stars" and previous statistics the next President elected will die before completing his term. Every can-

name, who ran for the Presidency,
has been elected. Remember, Cool-

WILSON'S PROBLEM

Woodrow Wilson was asked: "How long does it take you to prepare
your speeches?" to which the president replied:

"That depends on the length of the speech. If it is a 10-minute
speech, it takes me all of two weeks
to prepare it; if it is a half-hour
speech, it takes me a week; if I can talk as long as I want to, it requires no preparation at all. I am ready now."

Good Taste

"Normally, there is no appetite

empty or while it is being filled,"
said a celebrated physician who sat
next to me at dinner. "And that girl over there who is eating her fruit cocktail with one hand and flaunting a cigarette with the other
is just putting up a pose—and an unhygienic one at that. Characteristically, her chest is about as shallow as the convolutions of her brain. Did you ever notice that girls
who do that are usually anemic,
dispeptic and unpopular with the
opposite sex."

Readers' Questions Answered
Dear Miss Markel: I am going to college in September and I would like you to help me plan my wardrobe. Thank you.—Co-ed.
Answer: You will require sport
clothes mostly—knitted dresses,
sweater suits, sweaters and skirts.
Low-heeled walking shoes, a small comfortable felt hat and a warm
loose-fitting sports coat. These will be indispensable for wear to classes
and for campus activities. You will have use for lounging pajamas or a house coat for study evenings in the dormitory. Street-length silk dresses
you will require for "dressy" afternoon occasions and for informal evenings. Dinner and formal evening dresses and their accompaniments play an important part in the lives of most college girls, for there are proms, banquets and mid-
season dances and numerous other activities requiring such after-dark finery.

Miss Markel will promptly mail
personal answers to questions from
any reader inclosing a self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

Tomorrow — Bragging About

One of the worst things some members of the Dem convention in Pittsburgh suffered last week was
when they could not get 60 gallons

had to pay state tax of $1.25 per gallon. It took a lot of enthusiasm
out of some of them.

There is much concern in this country when the automobile production falls. You don't hear so much comment if there is a shortage

TOUCH OF IRISH
A man recently received this letter from a nephew, who, as might be imagined, is Irish:
"Dear Uncle: With Christmas
bills to pay and other things I am in such a condition that I don't know what to do. It kills me to ask you for $20 but needs must, and I know you will understand. I am giving this to a messenger who will await your answer."

"P. S. I am so ashamed of what I have written that I am running
after the messenger to get the letter
back. Unfortunately I am unable to catch him, but I may be fortunate in that he may lose the letter."

A little later the anxious nephew
received this note:

"Dear Nephew: Set your mind at ease and worry no more. The Lord
has heard and answered your prayers. The messenger did lose the letter."

Ex-Governor Pinchot was not saying he is out of politics. He was told that by people who really know he is out at the last election he took part in.

A man who sometimes looks upon
the wine when it is red, says the present day liquor may be a fake
but the headaches it produces are genuine.

BOYISH TOUCH
Boys away from home attending
school seem to have some odd ideas
of grand and happy times, judging
by this letter received by a mother:

"Dear Ma—We are having a good time at school this month. George Brown broke his leg coasting and is in the hospital. When we went skating the ice broke and we all fell in and got wet. Freddie Jones was drowned and most of the boys here
are down in bed with influenza.
The cook slipped in the kitchen and broke her arm and leg but hopes to be up soon. The aviator at the field kicked us all because someone threw
sand in his motor and we're black and blue. I broke my front teeth
playing football but the broken rib
I got in the same game isn't bothering me as much as a sprained ankle
does. We are all very happy here."

It has not been so many years
ago that many people ever thought
of eating fresh pork in the summer
time. Now they eat it whenever they can get it. These people had a reason for not eating it in hot weather.

New Castle sure is a swift city
when it comes to speeding autos
on all its principal streets. It's a wonder we have not had many killed.

NOT HIM
Seeing we are on matrimonial matters, we recall the case of the man who went to a lawyer to arrange for his daughter's divorce.

The lawyer sought to find the grounds for the divorce and asked
if the husband had been guilty of infidelity.

"Oh, no," said the wife's father.
"He isn't an infidel. As a matter of fact he goes to church every Sunday. We'll have to get some other divorce grounds."

"I'd bet my life on it" wouldn't
make the flip statement if he expected there would be any takers.

What's What At A Glance

Troubles Will Face A Republican.
President Would Have Hands Full.
Senate Would Be In Democratic Hands.

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—New

Dealers have it all doped out that the Republicans can't possibly control congress before the end of 1942
even if they elect a G. O. P. president next year. Theoretically they can get a majority in the house of representatives. It would involve an amazing shift in rival parties' respective memberships, but it's imaginable. In the senate, however, only 33 terms will be expiring—32 normally and that of Senator Slattery,
who is serving temporarily, by appointment, as successor to the late Senator Lewis of Illinois. To give them a senatorial margin of advantage the Republicans would have to capture all those seats and they can't conceivably do it. As optimistic a Republican guesser as Senator Austin, acting minority leader in the upper congressional chamber, limits
himself to forecasting "at least a half-dozen" G. O. P. gains.

Admitting, then, (merely for argu-
ment's sake), the 1940 election of a Republican president, with a majority in the house of representatives,
the White House tenant still will have a Democratic senate on his hands, and congress won't be much
use to him unless he can control
both houses on Capitol Hill.

That is how the New Dealers figure.

There's nothing the matter with
their arithmetic.

The Republicans, though, say they leave some other items out of consideration.

Republicans Tell Their Story
Here's how the Republicans reason:

The New Deal has a Democratic majority "on paper." But when it comes to voting in congress, about 30 per cent of the Democrats vote
with the Republican lawmakers.

Thus the Democratic "paper" majority actually is a Republican majority.

But if a nice anti-New Deal Republican president gets into office,
all the anti-New Deal Democrats
will flock up with the Republicans,
and everything will be lovely from
the Republican standpoint.

Izzat so?

I wouldn't think it. Senators Tydings, Glass, George, Bailey et al certainly are anti-New Deal Democrats, but can anybody think of any of 'em as pro-Republican? My surmise is that any one of them almost
would flop into New Dealism in preference.

In short, I'd say a New Deal defeat would solidify the Democratic party.

Yes, the G. O. P. arithmetic is
o. k. But its psychology? I doubt it.

If a Republican president gets into office in 1940, and a presidentially anti-New Deal Republican senate, I'd look to see the Democratic "pro" and "anti" Democratic New Dealers coalesce immediately.
After which the G. O. P. president's prospect would be "a heck of
a time."

They Oughta Split

The two parties should split, of
course, into conservatives and liberals. They won't do it.

I don't know just which is which.
Each is half conservative (the anti-New Deal Republicans and the anti-New Deal Democrats) and each
is radical, the "pros" on both sides.

State Saves In Purchase Of Tar

Cost Of Materials Used This Year Under Last Years Figures

PRICES LOWEST IN EIGHT YEARS

HARRISBURG, Aug. 17.—Purchases of bituminous materials for use on the State Highway system this year will result in a saving of more than $389,000. I. Lamont Hughes, secretary, announced today. Contracts have been executed for 21,849,490 gallons to be used for maintenance purposes and construction by the Department's forces.

Secretary Hughes reports that both asphalt and tar materials were bought this year for an average weight price per gallon of $0.0667 as compared with $0.0825 for 1938. The prices were the lowest received for departmental purchases since 1931, Hughes added.

In addition the Department will have a saving in the purchase of dust-laying oils to be applied on dirt roads during the present season. The Department plans to buy 848,957 gallons for $8,052.6 a gallon. This compares with $9.0561 the price paid in 1938. The saving on this material will be $3,011.

The Department also is buying almost 1,000,000 pounds of calcium chloride to be applied on the stabilized roads in the system.

The resurfacing program of the Department calls for the improvement of more than 150 miles of road. This work is estimated to cost approximately $2,500,000.

WPA ROAD PROGRAM

HARRISBURG, Aug. 17.—Approval has been received today by I. Lamont Hughes, secretary of highways, from the WPA for 684 projects to be undertaken under the Department's program with that agency. These projects will provide employment for 49,356 men. The projects are located in each of the WPA's 16 district areas. The highway department's share on these 684 projects will be $4,285,621. This will be contributed by the Department at the rate of approximately $1,071,000 a month.

Judge W. Walter Braham has fixed September 1st as the date for hearing divorce cases. Grand jury meets on November 11.

Resignations of inspectors of election boards has caused vacancies in the fourth district of the seventh ward; first district of the third ward and in Scott township. Appointments to fill the vacancies will be made soon.

Under the will of the late Hester M. Clark which has been probated in the office of Register and Recorder, Orville Potter, all of decedent's property is left to her brother, Eugene R. Clark, who is also named as executor.

Hearing in the case of Michael Miller, on a non-support order for the benefit of his son, Wallace Miller, has been continued until September 15. The petition was originally presented by Mary Miller, former wife of Michael Miller, and Miller was directed to pay $20 per month. When the order was made Wallace was 16. He is now 17, and Miller desires that the order be modified to meet changed conditions.

Subpoena in divorce has been awarded in the divorce case of Joseph W. Bunnell of 210 1/2 South Lafayette street against Mary Rose Bunnell of 506 West State street. The couple were married in November, 1937. Application for divorce was made on the grounds of indignities.

County commissioners have asked for bids on printing ballots for the coming primary election. There are to be 35,205 Republican ballots, including specimen and reserve, and 25,645 Democratic, including specimen and reserve and 210 non-partisan ballots. Bids are to be on a 1000 unit basis, so that if more are required there will be no misunderstanding as to price.

With avenues for relief open, it is harder to get estranged couples together than it was before it was so easy to get on the rolls. An official who has had considerable experience says that now when men and women separate and neither has a job, they both get on relief, and thus get more help than if they were living together. A case in point happened the other day when this official was trying to get a woman with two children to go back to her husband. She refused, saying that she was getting mothers' assistance and was being provided for better than when living with her husband. "Besides," she said "my husband is now on relief, and is getting along all right. So why should we make any change?"

There will be only two parties, Republican and Democrat, on the ballot to be used at the coming primary, says County Commissioner Clerk, William A. Eakin. This is for the reason that none of the other parties polled enough votes at the last election to qualify to have their names on the ballots. For those who vote Prohibition, Royal Oak or no party, there will be a "no party" ballot for their special use.

County Treasurer V. I. Mandich has received from the Department of Revenue, a letter regarding mercantile licenses which says "Section 7 of the act of May 2, 1899 has been amended to provide as follows:

It shall be the duty of every county treasurer to see for the recovery of all licenses duly returned to him by the mercantile appraiser, if not paid on or before the first day of August of each year, within thirty days of that date. The law also provides that when suit is brought, it shall be the duty of the treasurer to collect in addition to the license tax the following penalties: Retail, wholesale, restaurant, 5 per cent. Pool, broker, auctioneer, amusement fifty per cent.

The Department of Revenue must, therefore hold the county treasurer liable for these penalties. You, as county treasurer, are instructed to comply with the provisions quoted above and to place delinquent accounts for collection on September 1st.

In placing these accounts for collection you will make arrangements with all aldermen and justices of the peace, that on all collectible items they shall collect their costs. They are to report all uncollectible accounts to you, giving the reason. Upon these they will receive no costs."

Treasurer Mandich says that he expects to enforce the law as laid down in the above instructions.

Poisonous Plant Warning Issued

Plants Which Cause Death To Livestock Are Listed By State

HARRISBURG, Aug. 17.—Within the past few weeks a number of reports have come to the Department of Agriculture concerning plant poisoning of hogs and cattle.

One of the very worst of these poisonous plants is water hemlock (Cicuta Maculata). It is a herbaceous plant belonging to the same family of plants as Queen Anne's lace or wild carrot, which is known by nearly everyone.

All farmers should try to know at sight a few of the most poisonous plants, and thus try to prevent poisoning, the Department of Agriculture says.

Among the worst poisonous plants in the State are water hemlock (Cicuta Maculata), poison hemlock (Conium Maculatum), wild black cherry (Prunus Serotina), bracken fern (Pteridium Latiusculum), mountain laurel (Kalmia Latifolia), and white snakeroot (Eupatorium Urticacefolium).

The danger of loss of livestock from eating poisonous plants is greater in dry hot weather when the pastures are scanty than when there is plenty of rainfall and pastures are in good growing condition.

All of these plants with many others are discussed in a bulletin entitled "Poisonous Plants of Pennsylvania." This bulletin, which is free, can be obtained by writing the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, Harrisburg.

FOR GENERATIONS

(International News Service) WALLA WALLA, Wash.—Behind the secluded walls of the Washington State Penitentiary there is a "royal" family of cats that has roamed the length and breadth of the big house for the past 75 generations.

In the last census taken by prison officials, 50 prison tabbies were counted that were descendants of cats, introduced into the prison back in 1867, when a worried prison warden made a public appeal for cats to combat the rats which infested the prison cell blocks.

Large Crowd Gathers For Old Timer's Day

Years of age, but there were scores of folks up in their 80's. The honor of the youngest attendant went to Baby Lawrence Deegan, of 82½ Morton street, aged eight and a half weeks, but Lawrence didn't seem to pay much attention to what was going on around about him, and slept through most of the program.

Promptly at 1:30 o'clock, President Fred B. Sankey, of the Old Timers Association, called the assembly to order in the dancing pavilion. He reminded those present that this was the 33rd annual reunion of the Old Timers of the county.

Judge Braham Speaks

He stated that on the first occasion of Old Timers Day back in 1907, they were addressed by the presiding Judge Hon. William D. Wallace, and felt it fitting to have the present presiding judge address them. He then introduced Judge W. Walter Braham.

Judge Braham, a descendant of one of Lawrence county's pioneer families who settled in the northern section of the county, spoke about the joy and happiness that such occasions as this bring.

He said that it was only fitting that we should have occasions such as this, when we could gather to honor the pioneer residents of the community who had built so well.

Grand March

Then the committee which had charge of the grand march assembled the Old Timers and honor guests, and the grand march started, with Robert H. Whaley, aged 85; and his sister, Mary Whaley, aged 90, leading the one column, and President Fred B. Sankey and Mrs. Effie Peebles Kirk, one who has been deeply interested in Old Timers Day since its formation, leading the other column. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Emery Crawford, of Cleveland, O., honor guests up in their 80's were among those who also headed the procession.

After the grand march, the orchestra swung into the old time tunes which have been famous for years as square dance harmonies, and the group swung into the formations, with Joe Brooks, of Highland Heights calling the figures, and the real fun of the afternoon was on.

Expresses Appreciation

Mr. Sankey thanked the various committees who had contributed to the success of the occasion, and to those individuals who had aided in making the day such a happy event. He particularly thanked the women who had aided with the reception and registration, and in getting the grand march participants lined up.

There were a number of school teachers present who have been instrumental in getting many of New Castle's most brilliant minds started on the road to success. These included Mrs. Scott B. Hamilton, Mrs. Carmi Glover, Miss Jennie Barnett, Miss Rebecca Browne and Mrs. Samuel McBurney, who have long since ceased to labor at their vocation, and Miss Anna Perry and Miss Iretta V. Dart, supervising principals in the schools at the present time.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo G. Griffith, of Pittsburgh, were also among the distinguished guests present. Mr. Griffith has been prominent in civic affairs in the city of Pittsburgh for several years, was head of the Community Chest there last year and is president of the New Castle club of Pittsburgh, an organization formed for good fellowship which has a membership of 75.

Many others who have always taken a deep interest in the day were unable to be present on yesterday's occasion, and they were sadly missed.

Many Over 75 Years Of Age

If the combined ages of the real old timers who were in attendance was added up, it would make a figure something like the national debt. Among those present who were 75 years of age or over, were the following:

OTHER AILMENTS OFTEN
MISTAKEN FOR IMPETIGO

I have come to regard impetigo in babies a lot more seriously. This isn't because of impetigo itself, but because today we know much more about syphilis than we used to.

I recall when quite early in my practice, I was called to see a baby that had some sores on its face. I treated it and treated it, but it was a long time before I discovered that it was syphilis. It was a great shock to me and one that I have never forgotten. As I say, we didn't know so much about that disease in those days. We didn't know then, as we do now, that a person may contract it in perfect innocence and give it to others without ever knowing it. So in this case, I had known the couple all their lives. They were decent people, and the thought that the sores on the baby might be syphilis never entered my head. So I went right ahead treating for impetigo.

That is the reason we are so insistent about blood tests today—because anyone might contract syphilis in some innocent way, and just as innocently pass it on. Why, in hospitals, blood tests have become merely part of the routine. All doctors undergo periodic examinations, because in handling patients they might contract the disease and pass it on to someone else. I myself have had a number of blood tests, and I intend to continue taking them.

But to go back to impetigo in small babies. I have seen it develop four or five days after birth and under such conditions that you couldn't imagine where the contagion had come from. I have even taken prospective mothers to the hospital to have a baby, and I have seen the baby develop the disease while right in the hospital. How in the world it ever got into the hospital ward I couldn't figure out, but there it was for us to tussle with.

All of this is to point out how necessary it is to have every thing kept clean and sterile around the baby. Remember his skin is much more susceptible to this skin disease than yours.

Diagnosis of impetigo isn't always easy. I have referred already to syphilis. Several times, too, I have been treating a child for eczema and although I am sure it started out as eczema, impetigo got mixed in some way, and what a complication that is! You are trying to find what article of food is causing the eczema but the rash gets worse and worse in spite of all you do. Then you find that it isn't the eczema that is getting worse, it is the impetigo.

I remember one very unusual case I had along this line about twenty-five years ago. There was an epidemic of smallpox in the community, and a woman who had this disease gave birth to a baby. Well, a few days later the baby developed smallpox too. I wasn't worried about this particularly, because I knew the child would inherit a certain amount of immunity from the mother. However the child's rash, after about two weeks, began suddenly to get worse.

Well, I was puzzled, to say the least. I examined the baby again and again and couldn't account for this. Then I suddenly thought of impetigo. I started treatment, but the smallpox was a dim memory long before I got that other and apparently simple little skin disease cleaned up. And I never could figure out just when the impetigo came into the picture.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

These are the days when one yearns, as the heart panteth for the water brook, for that wonderful playground, the old State of Maine where there's peace for the soul and rest for the body; where you journey over old logging roads through the silent, brooding woods, surprised by lovely little lakes and a glimpse of red deer feeding knee-deep among the water-lilies, or an even briefer glimpse of Brer Fox slithering on a wicked errand of his own.

And so to your camp and to bed and the noises of the woodland—old Mother Bear foraging among the wild raspberries up the mountain, and the human-like squealing of a well-cuffed naughty cub. The blessed dark with its healing silences, all the more grateful for the scuffling of Brother Porcupine out in the brush, or the short, sharp, impudent bark of a predatory fox.

And then the sunrise, the first faint flush of rose and the spreading glory, and then the long bright morning. And down the long trail, pack on back, to the canoe in the alders, and drifting downstream around graceful bends where those silver ladies, the birch trees, whisper and gossip of woodland doings.

And then the deep pools where the trout lie in the hot days of August and the graceful, flickering lure of silken flies cast ever so lightly over the pools, Parmachene Belle and Montreal and Silver Doctor. And the thrill that almost stops the heart as a big trout shoots from the deep, curves from the cool, green depths and strikes Silver Doctor and is hooked to his doom.

And then the tranquil evening, paddling upstream, silent as a ghost. And the deer that are surprised along the level bars as they come down to drink, hiding their tiny spotted fawns back in the alders. . . . The graceful, shy does, with their great, mouse-like ears and their brown eyes staring so intently at the silently moving canoe, poised on the springs of terror, ready at a flash to go leaping in curving loops back into the alders and the forest, flying their white flags behind them.

The great blue heron that lifts like a seaplane from the top branch of the old pine blasted by lightning and goes soaring away. The shell-drake ducks, mother and father and a dozen babies, stretched clear across the stream in a level line and scuttling from water to wing with a sudden, terrific energy that sends foam behind them in a wide tormented wake.

And then the canoe-landing, and taking down the rods, and taking up the pack, and the long hard hike back over the mountain to the glow of lantern light in log cabin windows and the pleasant murmur of voices.

Maine in the month of August.

A geologist of national fame predicts that Niagara Falls will certainly devour itself within twenty thousand years. That's bad news, though time has got to do a lot of marching on before that wonder of the world destroys itself. It may be less than twenty centuries before old Thundering Water, as the Iroquois named the Niagara River, eats away the great ledges as the savage Colorado did in the Grand Canyon.

Within the past few years several huge rockslides have crashed down from the face of the falls, hastening the erosion which sets back the falls four feet every year.

Niagara was created fifty thousand years ago, along with the Great Lakes. The vast basin of Lake Superior holds almost half of the fresh water of the world, and its overflow joins with that of Lake Michigan and Lake Huron to pour into Lake Erie. Seeking an outlet to the sea, these waters rush through a notch in Erie to form the Niagara River which, in turn, tumbles on for thirty-one miles to empty into Lake Ontario.

In that dim distant and icy past, the great cliffs which form the falls of today were seven miles downstream towards Lake Ontario. Inch by inch, foot by foot, the river has eaten away the hard limestone and sandstone. But it still has sixteen miles to go before it cuts another Grand Canyon between the two lakes.

In spite of rockslides, Niagara

Falls remains just about the most magnificent spectacle of our hemisphere. In the days of our parents and grandparents, a trip to Niagara went hand in glove with the rice, the wedding ring and the words "I do." And still does.

Niagara has had its great and long vogue from the era of the crinolines and bustle down all the way to the present and the bustle once more. Honeymooners by the hundreds of thousands still flock to Niagara to spoon in the moonlight, two million visitors every year.

Twenty Convicted In Waterbury, Conn. For Conspiracy

Mayor Included In Guilty List

Decision Handed Down After Lengthy Trial Of Many City Officials

MAYOR WEEPS AS HE LEAVES COURT

(International News Service)
WATERBURY, Conn., Aug. 17.—Mayor Frank Hayes of Waterbury, former lieutenant governor of Connecticut, and 19 other persons, including many present and former city officials, stood convicted today on charges of conspiring to cheat and defraud the city of an estimated $1,000,000 between the years of 1930 and 1938.

Mayor Hayes and 18 of the defendants, all of whom went on trial Nov. 29, 1938, were found guilty by a jury late yesterday afternoon while the 19th, Charles E. Williamson of Darien, a former Republican state leader, was adjudged guilty by Judge Ernest A. Inglis to whom he had entrusted his fate.

Mayor Hayes wept as he stepped from the courtroom but his sole comment was: "It was in the cards."

The chief charges at the lengthy trial were that a contractor was paid $600,000 for services never rendered; that the city was charged for a dinner Mayor Hayes gave state senators when he was lieutenant governor; that several lawyers were paid large sums of money for work never performed; and that various of the defendants shared thousands of dollars in lobbying fees.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 2 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.
Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Plan Baby Show For Catholic Fete

County's Healthiest To Vie
At Cascade Reunion
August 23

PHYSICIANS AND
NURSES TO ASSIST

A contest to determine the healthiest and most perfect babies in Lawrence county will be one of the principal features of the first annual reunion of members of all of the county's Catholic parishes at Cascade park Wednesday, August 23.

Bernard N. Hanlon, grand knight of the local Knights of Columbus council and head man for the reunion, announced the baby contest today. Dr. John A. Meehan is general chairman of the contest arrangements.

"It isn't a contest to determine the best looking baby, but the healthiest and the most perfect babies," Dr. Meehan said.

Examination and checking of the infants will be handled by a competent staff of physicians, dentists and nurses under the direction of Dr. Charles H. Whalen, physician-in-charge of the well baby clinic of the Pennsylvania department of health.

Prizes will be awarded by a distinguished group of ladies, who will compare the charts of contest entrants with those established for the respective ages by the state.

All babies in Lawrence county under two years of age, Dr. Meehan said, are eligible for entry in the show. Prizes will be awarded for babies in four age groups: Those up to six months of age, those from six to 12 months, those from 12 to 18 months and those from 18 to 24 months.

Additional prizes will be awarded to the baby brought the longest distance and to the healthiest twins.

Dr. Meehan is general chairman of the show arrangements with Dr. Whalen and a corps of doctors and nurses as aides.

Perforation of a duodenal ulcer is a dramatic occurrence.

It is one of the greatest surgical catastrophes to man.

Perforation occurs predominantly in the male.

It may occur at any age, the average being 40 years.

The pain in such cases is sudden and strikingly severe.

The agony is continuous in the pit of the stomach.

Serious shock and deep prostration occur early.

Surgical operation is called for immediately.

The time element is important in such cases.

Prompt diagnosis and operative treatment are imperative.

The death rate on operated cases used to be 83 per cent.

Today, with prompt operation, less than 10 per cent die.

Several Projects Ready To Start As Relief Work

Several projects which have been pending in the Relief Works organization are about ready to start it was stated in the office today.

The projects are those which do not fit entirely into the WPA program but can be done by relief recipients who are now expected to work for their allotments where work can be provided.

It has been suggested to the relief works heads that considerable work could be provided in the way of reforesting some of the lands in the rural districts now owned by the county.

The trees could be secured for a reasonable price from the state forestry department and the only tools needed would be some shovels and perhaps some equipment for getting water to the young trees.

The idea is being given consideration and may be taken up seriously in a few days.

Important City League
Game, Anderson To Face
Indies In Try For 12th Victory

RYANTOWN PLAYS AT WEST PITTSBURG

Clifton Flats baseball field will be the mecca for the lovers of the national pastime tonight when the Lawrence Indies will try to wrest the city league leadership from the Slovak club. The game will start at 5:45 o'clock (weather permitting).

Manager Steve Gonda has elected Leroy Anderson, the Slovak ace pitcher, to be his starting heaver and "Blondie" is going to try hard for his 12th straight city league win. He has yet to be defeated.

The Indies, according to Manager Hoss Zidow, will have either Paul Coates or Majocha on the hill to try and grab first place from the first half champs. This should be a humdinger of a game from start to finish. The same two teams have a tie game from earlier in the year to play off yet.

Regular Season Ends
The league regular schedule ends tonight, but there are quite a number of postponed and tied games to be played off. Anything can happen yet in regard to the second half championship. It's anybody's race yet.

Ryantown at West Pittsburg
West Pittsburg still battling hard for the second half flag will close the regular league season tonight at West Pittsburg field by meeting the Ryantown team. It will be Powell or Gunnert for the "Gas House," said Danny DeGenova today and it will be Campbell or Morris for the Ryantowns.

Civics vs Columbus Club
The Union Civics will be down at the E. & A. field tonight to battle the Columbus club. Manager Orlando will send Rainey or Perritt to the hill and it will be either Hall or Shaw for the Civics.

St. Josephs vs Tigers
The West Side Tigers not yet eliminated from second half honors, will tangle with a tough customer tonight in the St. Josephs team at the Lee avenue ball orchard. Manager McCormick will have Faller ready for mound work. The Saints will use either Picato or Sugen. A loss for the Tigers tonight will put them out of the running.

K. Pulaskis vs Elders
The K. Pulaski team (with no home field) will be up at the Lockley field to meet the Elder A. C. team. Manager Lefty Maslyk will have Ceb Mrozek or Browne Olesky to face the East Siders with the Elder manager starting either Carey or McIntyre.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Diamond musings—Night baseball really makes those turnstiles go around to a dizzy clip. So far, 27 major league setos have been played under the mazdas before 657,954 fans, an average of 24,300 per tussle. Practically all of the frays were staged on the duller days of the week when not more than 2,000 to 6,000 addicts would have turned out for daylight encounters. Pittsburgh is about ready to set up floodlights. The Yanks and Giants will follow suit.

Ask Feller to name the hardest hitter in the American league and he'll pick Ted Williams, the eccentric Boston Red Sox yearling. The Cleveland casting ace claims Williams' drives travel like bullets. Jimmy Dykes has been showered with praise for his managerial ability. What's wrong with Ray Blades. The Cards' front office picked him out of their farm system to guide an aggregation which finished a wobbly sixth in '38. We don't think he'll grab the flag but anyone who can patch up a gang like the Cards and bring 'em up in second, deserves commendation of the highest degree.

Sport jottings from here and there—Along the Rue of Sockerer: Maxie Baer has evened the count with Lou Nova. The day before Lou left for the east, Baer defeated Nova 4 to 3 in bowling. Joe Louis has fought but two professional fights in Detroit, his home town. Freddie Apostoli has never battled a colored fighter. Grid notes: Coach Lynn Waldorf has advised New Orleans scribes that Bill DeCorrevant is slated to do a lot of bench warming this fall for Northwestern. Waldorf hinted that somewhere, along the line, DeCorrevant did not catch on to the fundamentals any too well. From South Bend, latest reports state that Elmer Layden's crew will be only four deep in practically every position, including the bench. College press agents are requested to put this bureau on their mailing lists as soon as possible.

Local sport briefs—Jack Mercer, one of the classiest high school basketball players developed in Lawrence county in many years, enters Westminster college this fall. Mercer captained last season's New Wilmington high aggregation. Mike Coates and LeRoy Anderson, City Baseball league pitchers, are receiving a tryout at the baseball school being conducted by the

Cardinals Down Pittsburgh Twice

Eight Straight Defeats For Pirates, Reds Lose To Chicago Cubs

YANKS FINALLY DEFEAT LEONARD

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports
Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Perhaps Bill McKechnie had the right
hunch about the month of August.
You will recall the smooth-working
pitcher of the Reds said some time ago that August, rather than September, would see the pennant
clinched.

McKechnie's hopes dropped a
game and a half yesterday when the Cubs trimmed them, 2-1, while the Cards were taking a pair from the peaceful Pirates, 4-3 and 3-0.

Bucky Walters gave the Cubs
only five hits in striking for his 21st victory of the season but one of those was Augie Galan's homer
and that smash beat him.

The Bees and Phils split a pair,
the former winning 9-2, behind Bill
Pesci and the latter counting 3-2
behind Hugh Mulcahy.

The Giants helped the Dodgers
boost their home attendance up near the 800,000 mark and incidentally handed the home guard a beating 7-3.

The Yanks picked up half a game
on the idle Red Sox by beating
their old nemesis, Duth Leonard
and the Senators 4-0.

The Tigers caught the White Sox
on Charley Gehringer's pinch ninth inning homer but then blew in the 12th, 7-6.

The Indians tightened their hold
on a first division berth by trimming the Browns, 3-0, and 7-1.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL

Life is queer . . . and every one lives it differently. Take the case of the young fellow who has a fairly good job . . . making more money than he ever did in his life, but because of some misunderstanding was jilted in love. Now he spends his time running around the country side following this party and that . . . seeing this young lady here and that young lady there. Trying his best to be titled a play boy . . . some day much to his sorrow, that title will stick.

A good-bye kiss is a little thing,
With your hand on the door to go.
But it takes the venom out of the sting
Of a thoughtless word or a cruel fling
That you made an hour ago.

A kiss of greeting is sweet and rare
After the toil of the day,
And it smooths the furrows plowed by care,
The lines on the forehead you once called fair,
In the years that have flown away.

'Tis a little thing to say "You are kind;
I love you, my dear," each night,
But it sends a thrill through your heart, I find,
For love is tender, love is blind,
As we climb life's rugged height.

We starve each other for love's caress;
We take, but we do not give,
It seems so easy some soul to bless,
But we dole the love grudgingly, less and less,
'Till 'tis bitter and hard to live.

Would you be interested in giving a home to a small kitten . . . if you are, call at 31 North Mercer street and we believe your request might be granted.

Really folks you should use the classified ads . . . it gives a cross section view of our town.

Market Shows Further Lost Ground At Opening But Gains Support During First Hour

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The stock market lost further ground today but showed support after yesterday's weakness. Trading was quiet.

Chrysler opened down nearly a point on a block of 1,200 shares, extended its loss somewhat and then rallied. General Motors wiped out a small loss and substituted a fractional gain.

Bethlehem Steel was a firm spot in the early dealings but slipped later. Other steels were lower though losses running to more than a point were pared.

DuPont regained a point loss in the chemical and showed a small gain by the second hour. Allied and Union Carbide were off a point each.

Westinghouse fell nearly 2 points on two transactions but came back fractionally.

The coppers showed some support, with several issues scoring fractional gains. C. & O. resisted the pressure on the other rails, while the utilities were quiet.

Sears Roebuck advanced a point in mail orders. Rubbers, communications and oils slipped. U. S. Gypsum gained fractionally in the building shares.

Norman E. Clark, chairman of the Roll Call of the Lawrence County Chapter of the American Red Cross, announces the acceptance of the chairmanship of the Special Gifts committee, by Fred L. Rentz, president of the New Castle News.

In commenting on Mr. Rentz's acceptance, Mr. Clark states, "It seems only fitting that special gifts committee be headed by a man so respected as our first citizen of New Castle is. Mr. Rentz has long been interested in the Red Cross Chapter and during the war it was due to his untiring effort that a home service committee was started. His task was too small for Mr. Rentz to give his attention to. As chairman of the Roll Call I am delighted to welcome Mr. Rentz into my executive family. His enthusiasm and deep understanding of the function of the Red Cross will make it possible for us to reach our goal set for the special gifts section."

Some Old Timers Recall Days Of Past At Reunion

David N. Matthews, 1511 Hamilton street, 90 on July 5, said while looking toward Cascade Park entrance, at the Old Timer's Reunion Wednesday that he remembered 85 years ago, there was a brick house and an "up and down" saw mill on the Run near by, and the next was the Brinton house near Butler avenue. Washington street in the city was paved with cobble stones and wooden blocks, and there was a plank road from Washington street, up Mercer street extending to about the end of the Highland street car line.

T. J. Hinkson, Dewey avenue, 81, remembered his first selling proposition. He and his twin brother George, now in Kansas, when boys, had grown some splendid rhubarb. They tied it into bundles and started to town with their baskets, and found ready sale at ten cents a bunch, and felt quite rich coming home with about $1.50. A few days later they went to town with another batch of rhubarb, but there was no sales. A grocer seeing the rhubarb, called the boys to him, asked the price. They replied in duet, "ten cents a bunch." "I'll give you five cents a bunch, and take the whole lot," proposed the grocer. The boys answer was "No," and they carried the rhubarb back home.

Malcolm Eckles, of Pittsburgh, formerly of "sheep hill," who worked at the lime and stone quarries here forty years ago, remembered how the great flames from the blast furnaces would light up the whole west side of the city. He talked of the Glover foundry on Moravia street, and named the business men and prominent men of the city. Mr.

VENDOL IS QUICKEST AND BEST MEDICINE I HAVE EVER TRIED

Bessemer, Penna., resident says it seemed no time before the sour, acid indigestion and gas were gone, nerves calm, and other troubles checked after Vendol relieved constipation.

The remarkable power of Vendol seems to beat the very peak when combatting troubles associated with constipation or the need of a diuretic to the kidneys, which appear in the form of acid indigestion, nervousness, lack of appetite and strength, painful aching muscles, night rising, and similar harassing inorganic complaints. Vendol gives the most satisfying relief from constipation, sharpens the appetite for wholesome food to replenish the blood, helps cleanse the body of wastes, which in turn promotes a rapid return of tone throughout the body. Mr. Tony Kucel, of Bessemer, Pa., near this city, told the Vendol Man in Eckerd's Drug Store of his happy experience with this medicine as follows:

"For several years I was daily constipated which made me suffer from excess acid condition, gas, sour stomach, palpitation, and nervousness, which often extended into the night so that I couldn't rest well.

Seemed everything I ate disagreed with me, and many times I'd feel dizzy spots before my eyes. "But I feel like a new person since I took a treatment of Vendol. It gave the most satisfying relief from constipation, then all the troubles just passed away. It didn't seem any time till I could eat hearty meals yet never have any trouble as before, and I seldom ever get up at night. I'm thankful for Vendol and recommend it to everyone."

Vendol is sold by all well stocked druggists, and is highly recommended here by Eckerd's of New Castle, 118 E. Washington St.

Stewart Is Named Attendance Officer

For Schools As Well—
Board Action

Robert Stewart, who has been the police officer for the New Castle public schools, was made attendance officer Wednesday night by the New Castle school board and will handle both jobs. The salary was placed at $125 per month for 12 months for the police officer's work, $20 per month for nine school months for the attendance work, and a car allowance of $20 per month for the nine school months.

A committee of school directors consisting of Dr. A. B. Foster, Griff Thomas and Clyde Whittaker reported to the board in the matter of cafeteria management for the coming year.

The report said that inasmuch as the senior high school cafeteria would be eliminated, the cost of supervision for the other two schools, Franklin and Washington, should be reduced. The salary of the supervisor, Mrs. Rachel Taylor, was placed at $130 per month, with no car allowance.

Director Robert L. Preston reported that a new lease had been arranged for the occupant of the old Martin Gantz property, the William Milsom company. The lease is to run for five years at a rental of $175 per month, with a 90-day clause inserted to provide for the sale of the property at any time.

The county commissioners notified the school board that it would take over the Aiken building for WPA work, the commissioners to maintain and repair the building, but to pay no rent.

A contract was awarded to the Pittsburgh News company for $1,596.79 worth of library books for the school libraries.

Director A. C. Hyde asked Superintendent C. C. Green why Latin had been dropped as a subject in the Mahoning school. He was informed that the demand for Latin was not large enough to justify it, but that if such a demand should arise this next term, Latin would be restored to the curriculum.

Current bills in the amount of $14,261.42 were approved.
